CONFESSED FLOGGERS SENT TO PRISON

QUICK TRIAL
FOR 'KLANSMEN'

Germany Would Lay Case Before World Court

Sentence Comes Within Forty Minutes

KLAN STATEMENT

Would Not Defend Floggers, Says Official

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 24.—(The) confederate members of a flagging party who admitted membership in the Ku Klux Klan were today sentenced to prison after pleading guilty to flagging charges.

The three men—Ben F. Sikes, Grover C. Sikes and Earl Sack—all from the village of Broken Arrow, near here, admitted participating in the whipping of Ben Wagner, a farmer.

Wagner identified the trio, as well as eight others who have denied their guilt, as members of the band that whipped him. Although Wagner was blindfolded he was able to see through the mask of light material. All of the whippers wore the full regalia of the K. K. K., Wagner said.

First Convicted

Authorities here believe this is the first instance wherein klansmen have been sentenced in any court. The three were immediately turned over to Adjutant B. H. Martham, commander of the martial law forces, conducting the investigation into mob violence in Tulsa county. The prisoners were placed under guard by the guardsmen and it is believed will be used as witnesses against other alleged Ku Klux Klan members who participated in the whipping of the German farmer.

Defense Attorney Ed Crowlind, announced in court that his clients, desired to waive preliminary hearings and bonds were set at $1,500 in district court. They were immediately taken to another room in the court house, confessed to the riot charge and were sentenced by District Judge Williams within 40 minutes after having arrived at the courthouse.

All Men Laborers

All those brought into court for the whipping of Wagner had the appearance of laborers. All wore overalls and blue shirts.

It is understood by the court that signed confessions by the three alleged klansmen are in the hands of the military authorities.

Ed Crowlind, who had a lively tilt with the Ku Klux Klan here over his defense tactics in behalf of alleged crooks, said in his plea for clemency before Judge Williams: "It is not these men who are responsible for the lawlessness in this county; they have been misled and beguiled into an audacious organization under a taught hatred and intolerance and taught it's members to use the lash."

KLAN WOULD NOT DEFEND FLOGGERS

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—"We are always glad to learn of the capture and punishment of floggers," declared a high official at the imperial palace of the Ku Klux Klan here today.

This statement was made to the United Press, when local officials showed a dispatch from Tulsa, Okla., telling of the confession of three alleged klansmen to participating in a flagging party.

The official said: "We would not turn a hand, nor spend a penny to defend a klansman guilty of crime."

"Instead, in every case where illegal deeds by klansmen have come to our attention we have turned the men and the evidence over to the civil authorities for action."

"When a klansman violates any of the laws of our country or of any state we consider it a more heinous crime than if the offender is not a klansman."

Crux of Problem Rests With Ruhr And Rhineland

Chancellor Stresemann in Interview Tells Problems of Germany and Fight to Stave Off Chaos and Anarchy the Coming Winter

(Copyright 1932, by United Press Associations.) (Copyright in Canada.)

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—This is a coalition cabinet, the broadest governing combination Germany has seen since she became a republic, and it will be the last cabinet; either it succeeds or there comes in its wake chaos and ruin. This is the last democratic-parliamentary cabinet.

Chancellor Gustav Stresemann thus pictured Germany's plight in an interview given to Karl A. Bickel, president of the United Press. In this interview, the chancellor made clear that any attempt to separate the Rhineland from the rest of the country will be "rejected by Germany as by one man." Germany regards the Rhineland as America regards New England, Virginia, or New York, he said.

The scene of the interview was Stresemann's office overlooking the historic chancellery garden, a room peopled by the shadows of Bismarck and other German leaders.

Chancellor Willing to Submit Reparation Question to Commission.

Stresemann gives the impression of being a man whose tasks are truly Bismarckian, involving either moulding together a decaying economic situation or passing on an inheritance of chaos, despair and destruction. He is young, active and energetic and manifested ability and earnestness as he reiterated Germany's willingness to lay the justice of her case before an international court or submit the whole reparations question to a commission, built along the lines suggested by Secretary Hughes in his New Haven speech.

Stresemann also pictured the desperate efforts of his cabinet to raise a foreign currency fund with which to rescue the slumping mark and provide sufficient food to stave off anarchy in the nation, now staggering under high prices and the specter of unemployment.

Crux of Situation Rests On The Problem of Ruhr and Rhineland.

"I realize the crux of our situation rests on the problem of the Ruhr and the Rhineland," Stresemann said. "We are ready for a settlement of this question but have set for ourselves aims which permit settlement only along certain lines."

"As I have already stated in the Reichstag, Germany wants to get back to work. She desires with all her heart to see the forges and the mines of the Ruhr and Rhineland in full bloom."

"But work and freedom in this connection are inseparable terms. If again we have disposal over the Ruhr in administrative traffic and the normal features of economic life and return to a legal condition in the Rhineland then we can work and pay."

"We stipulate further, however, that the families driven into exile and the inhabitants of the Ruhr condemned by military courts, shall be restored to their homes and full freedom and that Germany shall be given a 'breathing spell'."

Ready to Have Judgment Passed On Problem by International Court.

"Great Britain has already passed judgment upon the legality of the occupation of the Ruhr. We are also ready to have judgment passed by an international court, for we feel that such a court can say we have done what is for our good, right and duty."

"At this point, I would like to make clear that any settlement which aims at tearing the Rhineland from the Reich would be rejected by Germany as by one man."

"The Rhineland represents Germany's soul; to tear it away from us would be to Germany what a foreign power's seizure of the New England states or Virginia or New York, hallowed by the footsteps of American pioneers would mean to America, and let me make clear one other thing."

"I ask you as a representative of a nation which boasts 'fair play' is this not a sporting proposition?"

"Have we not gone the limit to satisfy our creditors?"

Germany Now Trying Hardest to Convert Excess of Bad Currency.

"We are still ready, however, to let an international commission based on the principles outlined by Mr. Hughes set the limits of our paying capacity."

"And I desire to answer the story that Germany purposely depressed her currency."

"The answer is: Could any nation be so foolish as to gamble with the inflation knowing the inevitable end of this is disruption."

"Right now we are striving our utmost to correct at this late date some of the evils of inflated currency."

"This inflation is due to normal causes, not to bad will. We intend to raise a fund of foreign currencies and gold values here in the hope of stilling the flood of paper money and putting the mark on a more stable basis."

"Further we must devote a fund to the purchase of foodstuffs for we realize empty stomachs often drive people to desperate deeds."

"Our country needs the forthcoming winter without feelings of horror at best, for coal is very scarce and the food situation, even with a good grain harvest, gives cause for anxiety."

Cabinet Doing Utmost to Avoid Collapse and Ruin.

"This is no idle talk. I can refer you to any of your American newspaper colleagues here for confirmation of my statement. Regarding the winter outlook you need only to visit the stores here to see what has happened to prices."

"The outside world has taken much of its impression of Germany from the Hotel Adlon and Under Den Linden. The types one meets there do not represent Germany. They are types which developed as an aftermath of the war in a land of cheap currency."

"The real story of the country is depicted at the fire-sides of the middle and working classes. They show you a different picture and it is this picture which makes me tell you this cabinet has been doing its utmost since the first day of its existence to avoid collapse and ruin and strive for a solution of the question of the Ruhr insofar as lies in its power."

JURY OUT LONG TIME

Debate Over Length of Term For Hours

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 24.—Motion for a new trial will be filed this afternoon by attorneys for T. B. Peart. This was announced this morning by counsel for the defense. The motion will be filed before Judge George C. O'Brien in 58th district court, where Peart was found guilty of the murder of A. A. Poteet, late finance commissioner of the city of Port Arthur, Texas.

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 24.—For the murder of Albert O. Poteet here last May, T. B. Peart, his slayer, was given a sentence of 99 years in the penitentiary last night at 7:15 o'clock following a little more than 24 hours deliberation by the jury. The case was tried in 58th district court before Judge George C. O'Brien.

Peart, according to the testimony, met Poteet, then a commissioner of Port Arthur, when the latter was in company with Peart's divorced wife. The shooting followed and Peart surrendered himself.

At the trial Peart gave self defense and four for his daughter's happiness as the two reasons for which he killed Poteet.

The verdict was returned following a day of anxious waiting by court room hangers on who heard various rumors emanating from the jury room at different times.

The verdict follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant, T. B. Peart, guilty of murder as charged in the indictment and assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for 99 years."

Mamer is the pilot who helped The News secure such a remarkable beat on the Dempsey-Gibbons fight photos. He flew westward from Shelby, Mont.

RAMMED BOAT IN PORT SINKS

Haden Company Dredge Goes Down

Rammed by the Texas Company tanker Duganston, Haden company's dredge No. 5 sank within a few minutes after the collision in the ship canal at the city barns about 7 a. m. today.

The sunken dredge lies heavily listed to port in about 15 feet of water, but according to officials in the Haden company, the dredge is not in any immediate danger of capsizing and efforts to raise her will be started at once.

Extent of the damage done the dredge boat is indeterminate, her owners said. The tanker, bound up the canal, sheered into the bow of the dredge, apparently smashing a hole of considerable size in her hull, they said.

For the past week the sunken dredge had been working on a slip along the canal frontage of the Eastern Texas Electric company's property, and when rammed and sunk today, her starboard side was over the shallow water near the bank where excavations have been made.

GOOD PROGRAM ON FOR SUNDAY

Popular Musicales Are Being Arranged

FINAL REHEARSAL

Programs Start at 5 P. M. And Are Free

Final rehearsal for Port Arthur's first Sunday vesper service, to be presented Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Methodist church, Stillwell boulevard and Lake Shore Drive, will be held at the church tonight.

Not only will the musicale Sunday mark the opening of a series of Sunday vesper programs for Port Arthur, but it will be the first time a program presented entirely by male singers and other musicians has been given in Port Arthur.

James Carroll, tenor, will be the first singer on the Sunday vesper program. He will sing a group of three numbers, all of which are used by John McCormack, and are "Macushla," by Dermot, MacMurrough, "Will Ye Remember?" by Heuter, and Herman Lohr, "Rose of My Heart."

Two Numbers

Neal Rader, bass, will be heard in two numbers, one, "The Armourer's Song," from DeKoven's American opera "Robin Hood," and the other a sea song, "The Mighty Deep," a number long favored by bass singers.

Jack Storey, tenor, has chosen a group of songs ranging from Ashford's "My Task," expressing a religious thought in appealing harmonies of words and music, to the "Kashmiri Song," from Amy Woodforde-Finden's "Indian Love Lyrics," an intense, dramatic cry of an Indian who loved, but lost, a pale hand beside the Shalimar. Storey will close his group with a rollicking, but sentimental, Scotch song, Walt's "Lassie O'Mine."

Baritone Solos

Tom Wilhelm and Joe Park will contribute baritone solos to the program. Wilhelm singing a group of three songs, which are Bartlett's "A Dream," "Roses of Picardy," and Burleigh's "Little Mother of Mine," and Park will sing "Not Understood," and a song, "The Indian Love Song," which number being included on the program by special request.

For the closing number, a male quartette will sing an arrangement of the hymn "Lead Kindly Light," by Dudley Buck. Members of the quartette are Jack Storey, first tenor; A. F. Foster, second tenor; Paul Bushong, baritone and Neal D. Rader, bass.

Instrumental

Instrumental numbers for the vesper musicale program include a violin, saxophone and organ trio, "Flower Song," (Czibulka), which will be played by the Sterling brothers and played by the Sterling brothers, "Misereere," from Verdi's "Il Trovatore," "Dramatic" "Humoresque," for the organ, and "Commemoration March" for the postlude also will be given by the organ.

Printed programs for the musicale will be provided by the News, sponsors of the vesper musicale, and the proceeds from a free will offering to be taken will be turned over to the Day Nursery funds. Other charitable organizations in the city will receive the collections taken at future Sunday vesper musicales, but no fixed admission fee will be charged.

Because of the sacred concerts given by the choir of the First Methodist church on the first Sunday evenings of each month, the News vesper services will not be presented on the afternoons of these first Sundays.

NEED FOREIGN LABELS, CLAIM

Provision Must Be Stopped, Says Official

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 24.—Mexican foreign labels on goods manufactured in this country must cease by September 15.

The secretary of treasury has issued an order to this effect.

Many manufacturers have been placing "Made in the United States," "Made in England," etc., labels on their products, because if the public could be convinced that these goods were imported, they could pay a better price.

It is not an uncommon sight to see vendors on the street supposedly secretly dispose of wares marked made in other countries which these vendors claim they have shipped past the customs and are therefore sell at a bargain.

Orders prohibiting the use of the markings were issued some time ago, but merchants complained that they would not be able to dispose of goods with such markings immediately.

The government has now given them until September 15. After that date a strict examination will be made of all stores and warehouses and products bearing foreign markings will be confiscated unless the established importation taxes be paid.

Products made in Mexico, if they are to be marked at all, must be marked, "Made in Mexico."

Considerable opposition has arisen against the government's order.

Ever Hear of Noiseless Auction? Fortunes Go for Books at This One

By MILTON BONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent. LONDON, Aug. 24.—"Eight thousand," says a man in a raised voice speaking in a voice so subdued that you have to strain to catch what he is saying.

Below a dozen men sit around a green baize table. All around are shelves jammed with shabby-looking books.

"Eight thousand five hundred," announced the man in the raised voice. (And he means pounds sterling, not dollars.)

He looks around, and then asks quietly: "Nine thousand?"

"Nine thousand," he announces, nodding, observing a sign from below.

"Nine thousand five hundred?" he queries.

A man sitting near him, dressed in American-style clothes, nods his head very slightly.

"Nine thousand five hundred," he says.

A little tap of the hammer, and that's that.

It's one of the greatest transactions in the history of the most famous auction house in the world—Sotheby's of Bond Street.

Not a bit like the auctions you are used to: no noisy plea to raise your bid, no agonized reminder that this is your last chance to bid, no hustle and frenzy, no droning of the auctioneer, no pounding of his hammer. Everything here is quiet, subdued, almost secretive.

These shabby-looking books are worth a king's ransom. They belong to the very aristocracy of books, mainly first editions dating back to the beginning of modern printed volumes.

One day 19 books belonging to the library of the late Earl of Carysfort brought over $175,000. And it took just 25 minutes. The highest price was paid for the Mazur Bible—$17,500. The bidder was the American, Philip H. Rosenbach, of Philadelphia.

Rosenbach runs the greatest rare book business in the world. Three or four times a year he comes over here, spends a few days at Sotheby's and leaves a small fortune behind.

An old tin trunk carries to America books worth their weight in gold. They are resold to millionaire book collectors who think no more of paying $60,000 for a book than Rosenbach thinks of nodding assent to a bid of $50,000.

BARON PREMIER OF JAPAN, DEAD

Foremost Statesman and Military Leader

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Baron Tominaka, premier of Japan, died here today, according to an official announcement.

Kato, one of the foremost of Japan's statesmen and military leaders, died suddenly after a lingering illness of several weeks.

Although the baron had grown weaker during the 21 hours preceding his death, it was believed that he would be able to fight through the crisis of the illness.

Stomach Trouble
Oxygen was administered early in the afternoon as his condition was said to be grave and more uncertain than then the end came.

A malignant stomach trouble which baffled physicians was the cause of Kato's death.

Kato became premier last year and announced a "peace program" of economy and development and friendship with the United States.

His coming to the premiership just after returning home from leading the Japanese delegation to the Washington arms conference, was hailed as inaugurating an auspicious era for Japanese-American relations.

Made War Hero
The admiral first came into world-wide notice during the Russo-Japanese war when a war hero during the fight of Tsushima in which the Russian armada was wiped out by a Japanese fleet, commanded by Admiral Togo.

Kato was considered responsible for the brilliant Japanese strategy in this battle and was promoted to vice admiral for his achievement.

Kato was made a baron in 1920, he was born in Hiroshima in 1859 of a family of moderate circumstances and became an orphan a few years later.

At 12 he entered the navy and later completed his education in the naval academy.

After graduating from the academy his advancement was rapid and by 1902 he was chief of staff of a squadron, the position he occupied when he led the Japanese forces into the great fight against the Russian.

DYCUS BLAMES POLITICIANS

Judge to Demand a Speedy Trial

Politics were in a large measure to blame for his indictment on charges of falsifying and assaulting with a prohibitive weapon two members of the I. W. W., declared A. W. Dycus, corporation court judge.

In discussing the matter of his indictment, Dycus layed the blame upon political opponents and declared he had never seen the two men mentioned, to be the best of his knowledge.

Before going into a lengthy statement in his own behalf, said Judge Dycus this afternoon, "I am going to ask the public to withhold judgment until the facts of the case are brought out."

"I am confident that if these charges are proved to their source, politics will have played no little share in the action. I do not remember ever having seen either Mr. Holland or Mr. Murray, the two I. W. W. whom I am accused of assaulting."

Judge Dycus said he was going to stand upon his constitutional rights and demand a speedy trial.

Some 50 business and professional men of Port Arthur went on the bonds asked by the grand jury when they returned the indictment against the local jurist.

ALDREDGE TO MAKE REPORT

Will Tell Conditions in Port Arthur

Captain Aldredge, one of the ranger captains investigating local conditions leaves Port Arthur tonight for a three-day conference with his home office at Austin.

Several lengthy reports have to be in the hands of his superiors by the end of this fiscal year, Sept. 1, not necessarily pertaining to the Port Arthur situation, but reviewing the work of the past year.

Captain Nicholas will remain in Port Arthur and will be joined by Captain Aldredge sometime next week. Neither ranger this morning would give an inkling of what they have accomplished here.

About half a hundred Port Arthur people have been summoned to give information before the investigating body and present indications do not point to a speedy close in the probe.

Hazy rumors of indictments and true bills have been on the streets here for the last few days, but nothing definite has been ascertained relative to any probable act of the grand jury.

NO AIR MAIL SENT FROM HERE

And None Expected, Postoffice Men Say

Port Arthur needn't worry about the time saved between New York and San Francisco in the new post department's "air mail" record of 27 hours and 55 minutes between the two oceans.

We waxed inquisitive Friday and wandered into Postmaster Dunn's office full of curiosity. No, we didn't want to mail a letter via the air line, but our curiosity-lump had been itching since reading of the flyers clipping five minutes from the schedule from Broadway to the Golden Gate. Due to the situation of Port Arthur in relation to the air route no time would be saved by making connections with the nearest air station for mail to San Francisco, inasmuch as the parcel would have to be routed via Chicago, or Omaha, the nearest stop of the planes.

San Francisco is closer by rail to the Port Arthurian wishing to correspond with that city in as much as the connection via the Southern Pacific cannot be bettered by the airplanes.

Consequently, until our worthy president decides to put on an air line between Port Arthur and Milwaukee or Chicago, Port Arthurians will use the railroads for mail transportation.

No new "air mail" stamps have been received here and neither are any expected at the local postoffice. The new stickers are being printed in denominations of 8, 16 and 24 cents.

They vary in color with a mail plane radiator reproduction across the face of the stamp and the propeller decorations.

TOBACCO KING SUED BY BRIDE

John E. Liggett Is Made Divorce Defendant

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—All hope of a reconciliation between John E. Liggett, millionaire tobaccoist, and his wife, Violet Colby Liggett, has been shattered.

Mrs. Liggett sued in the supreme court to recover $24,267.75 from Liggett, Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., and George T. Napier, members of the oil brokerage firm of Liggett & Drexel.

The papers filed by Bennett E. Siegelstein, counsel for Mrs. Liggett, recite that the sum demanded is the value of securities, cash and jewelry delivered by Mrs. Liggett to the firm in or about January, 1918, when the brokerage house it is said, was in financial difficulties.

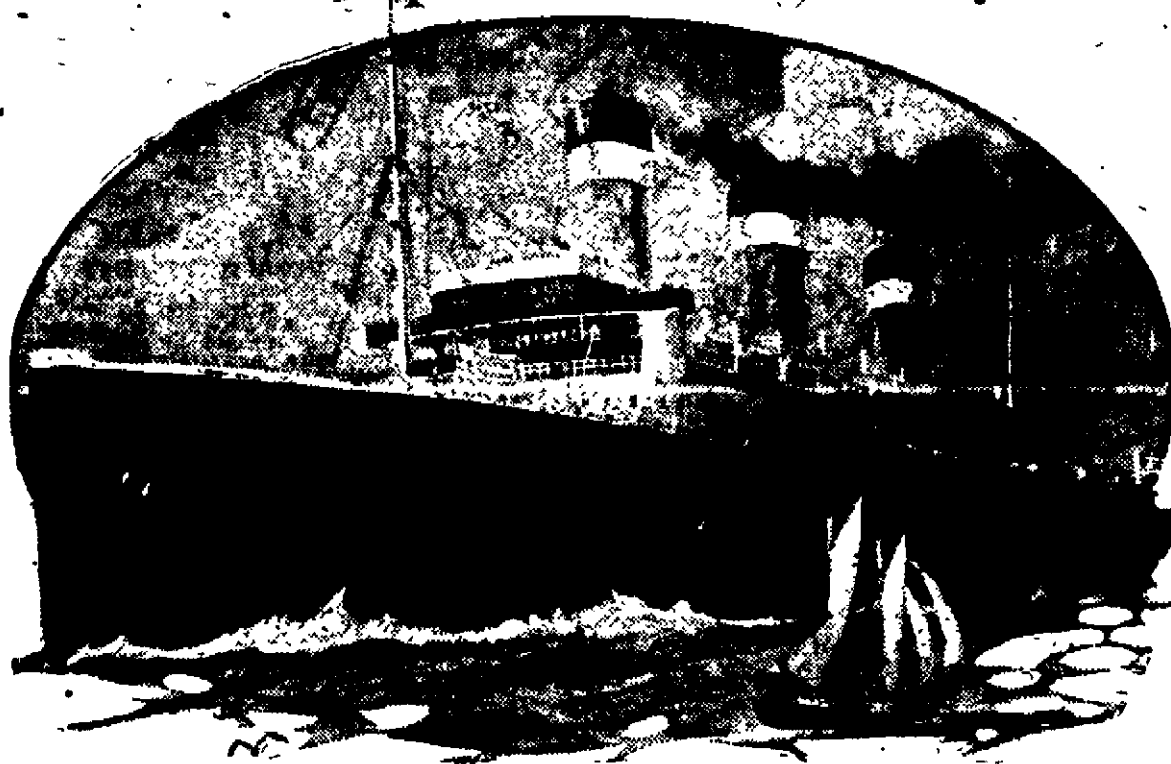

The securities consisted of 100 shares of Pennsylvania railroad stock, 300 shares of Northern Pacific, 500 shares of Atlantic Gulf preferred, 100 shares of Interborough preferred and several shares of City of Paris.

The complaint says the securities were to be used as collateral for loans to be raised for the brokerage firm and were to be returned "after a reasonable time." Mrs. Liggett alleges.

In addition to the securities, jewelry valued at $9,000 and $7,000 cash, which Mrs. Liggett says she sent the concern, are covered by the suit.

Mrs. Liggett is the tobaccoist's second wife. They were married secretly in 1914, after she had divorced Clarence Harvey, comedian.

A Girl at 60

A famous beauty for 40 years
By EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

I have been a stage beauty since days you can't remember. Now, at a grandmother's age, I am still a stage beauty, and I look like a girl of 19. The thousands who see me daily marvel at my youthful bloom. It seems unbelievable to them. Countless women have urged me to tell them the secret.

Now I am doing more than that. I am supplying all who wish the very best skin. The helps France gave me years ago. The helps that made me famous as a girl, and that keep me a girl today. I hope they will bring to millions what they brought to me, and I believe they will.

White Youth Clay. My chief help is a clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many use today. I quit those years ago. There is now a white refined clay which brings manifold results. It has been perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

I apply it twice a week. It purges the skin of all that clogs it—the causes of sallowness, blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy glow, and immediate new complexion.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. Many women in 30 minutes seem to drop ten years. My own face shows what constant use will do.

This White Youth Clay will do for any girl or woman more than anything else I know. The new beauty and new youth it brings will be amazing to you.

Fireman Is Taken From His Bride; Then Put in Jail

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 24.—That the unwritten law of the Gainesville fire department requiring all members to notify the department when someone intends making a voyage on the sea of matrimony must not be violated, was forcibly impressed on William Wofford Sunday night.

He was temporarily kidnapped from his bride of less than 36 hours, placed on one of the motor trucks and given a ride through the city, then taken to the central fire station and tried by the kangaroo court. He was allowed to select an "attorney," but the judge and jury gave little heed to the defense and found Wofford guilty. He was sentenced to serve 30 minutes in the city calaboose and to furnish a box of cigars for the fire boys, both of which he did and was afterwards returned safely to the new Mrs. Wofford.

YOU AND I

DOLLAR
The dollar is worth only 65 cents now, on the 1913 basis, says Professor Irving Fisher. He means that $1 now will buy only 65 cents' worth of goods as it would buy $1.00 in 1913. But the situation is almost identical to the one when it comes to retail prices—cost of living.

DOWN
How about prices? Wall Street Journal prints an article with this headline: "Wheat and cotton prices off 30 per cent, rubber 27 per cent, from March."

RUSS
Russia gets more optimistic in its crop forecasts. It has signed contracts to deliver to Germany much grain, including 200,000 tons of rye. Acute car shortage over there.

COME-BACK
Inside Germany, this interesting situation which speaks for itself: In 1913 Germany had 51,336 plants employing 2,033,000 men in metal transforming, chemical and mechanical construction. In 1921 she had 64,346 such factories, employing 2,432,000.

APPLIED
A giant cupola is being installed at Yernbach, Mexico, to check up the Einstein theory. Many wonder what good will it do, if the theory is proved either true or false?

TOM SIMS SAYS
Sailor kicked a Los Angeles cop on the nose. In other towns this is considered bad luck.

COST OF THE WEEVIL.
And now cometh the president of the New York Cotton Exchange with the prophecy that unless the boll weevil is conquered and destroyed American supremacy as a cotton producer is threatened by the activity of the parasite.

WHERE THEY SMILE.
California comes up smiling with a ten million dollar black walnut crop. These California walnut growers are co-operators. They have one selling agency. With them business is business. They get 55.6 per cent of the dollar of the consumer. There is no wastage for the grower. It is the same with the California raisin grower, the California orange grower, the California cantaloupe grower, the California potato grower. This should give inspiration to the Texas cotton grower.

An intricate story of intrigue and suspense in the heart of the East

COOLIDGE AND CUMMINS.

Calvin Coolidge is president. Albert S. Cummins is a United States senator from Iowa. Warren G. Harding was for the zoning of American railways in order that the powerful lines should take care of the weak lines.

Powerful railway managers of America opposed the Harding proposition. Senator Cummins favored it: Harding is dead. Coolidge is his successor. Coolidge is an easterner; Harding was a westerner.

One of the acute political issues, especially in the ranks of the farmers of the west is the transportation issue. All the western farmers are demanding reduced freight rates. Senator Cummins is going to push the Harding proposal.

Will President Coolidge push the Harding proposal? Will he walk in the foot prints blazed by his predecessor, or will he take the advice of the eastern leaders of his party and let the issue slide?

Senator James A. Watson of Indiana is a republican leader. He has been called the voice of consolidated interests on the floor of the American senate. Now who is going to win, the senator from Indiana or the senator from Iowa? And where will the president be found when the fight is on?

Senator Cummins is president pro-tem of the upper house. He is ambitious for re-election. He is chairman of the senate railway committee. This committee is all powerful in shaping legislation.

The modest man from Iowa will not surrender the chairmanship. He is for the zoning proposition heart and soul. He has friends among the democratic senators. The office of president pro-tem is a republican plum.

Democratic senators recognize this. They prefer Cummins to some rank reactionary. Perhaps they prefer him to a rank radical. If Cummins gets it he will take down the salary of the vice president of $12,500 a year.

There are many rocks in the roadway of the president. There is a vast difference between eastern republicanism and western republicanism. If the president is able to ride two horses or at least to convince the warring factions that he is able to ride two horses he will escape being split away up the back.

Now many years ago Senator Cummins was re-organized as the radical of the senate. Now he is recognized as a conservative. Cummins hasn't changed. He entertains the same convictions as when he was elected to the senate more than a decade ago. His former constituents have changed, radically changed. They are the men who sent Smith W. Brookhart to the senate as the colleague of the conservative Cummins.

Warren G. Harding thought highly of Albert D. Lasker and the ship subsidy. Now what will the president do? Will he ignore Lasker in his formation of a kitchen cabinet and kick the subsidy proposition into the morgue? There is a soldier bonus bill coming. Warren G. Harding, president, vetoed it, in the face of the fact that there were editors and politicians who said that he was without backbone. What will Coolidge do with the bonus bill?

Andrew W. Mellon is to remain at the head of the treasury department. He was at the head of the treasury department when Warren G. Harding vetoed the bonus bill. He advised Harding to veto it. Now will Mellon advise the president to veto the bonus bill scheduled to be presented to him sometime next winter.

There is a presidential election coming next year. There are four million former service men. The ballot will be the thing.

Now what will the president do? Will he walk in the foot-prints of Harding and exercise his veto power? Or will he howl to the inevitable and give his approval to the measure?

If so, will it be a sales tax, a restoration of the excess profits tax or a tax on the wealth of the country? There are ten La Follette senators. They are radicals to a man. They favor the restoration of the excess profits tax.

Will the democratic senators join hands with the ten radicals and force the restoration of the excess profits tax? There is going to be a lively session of congress the coming winter. It is going to make history and it is going to be a grave digging agency for many ambitious politicians.

COOLIDGE
I forgot to mention that, in Karl's last letter which came while we were very ill, he asked my permission to give Alice what he called a modest string of pearls. I think it is preposterous, although I know that a string of pearls means nothing to him. What do you think about it? In some way Alice has found out that he wants to give them to her and she called me yesterday begging me to give my consent. Wire answer.

MOTHER.
Night Letter from Leslie Prescott to Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton to her daughter, LESLIE.

Cable From Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton to Alice Hamilton.
Toll Karl has his consent to give you the pearls. Be sure it is a small string and the pearls are small. Others would not be becoming to a young girl.

Cable From Alice Hamilton to Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton.
I was so sure you would give your consent that I had already accepted the pearls from Karl. They are wonderful. You are a dear and Karl the sweetest thing that ever lived.

Cable From Karl to Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton.
Thank you, my dear Mrs. Hamilton for giving me one of the greatest pleasures of my life. Alice is very happy. Consequently so am I.

Note From Mrs. Harry Ellington to Mrs. Leslie Prescott.
Harry told me today that you were able to see visitors. I have not yet gotten over the shock of my accident. I think the sight of you, my dear, in full health will have a calming effect upon my nerves.

Will you accept these little love-letters for John Jr.? My, but you are a lucky girl! Not only do you get over your accident splendidly, but you have thrown in for good measure with the gift of your recovery a perfectly beautiful baby boy.

Harry says Jack is always raving about him. Expect me in about four this afternoon.

Jack tells Harry that he would like to get you a new car. But he is afraid to suggest it to you for fear you will feel you could never drive another. I told him that was all nonsense, so if you just intimate to Jack that you have no fear of driving again I expect you will see another coupe at the door when you are able to go out.

I hope you will take me for your first ride.

With love, RUTH.

FAREWELL RECEPTION AT FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH PROVES DELIGHTFUL EVENT

MAKING its place on the calendar of events as the most elaborate and largest attended affair of the late summer season was the farewell reception given in compliment to Dr. and Mrs. William Oeschger last evening at the First Christian church with members of the church acting as hosts and hostesses. Dr. and Mrs. Oeschger leave next Tuesday for Denver, Colo., to make their home.

The church decorations of beautiful palms, ferns, and graceful arrangements of vines and lovely blossoms gave an unusually attractive setting for the reception, and the palms and green foliage which gave adornment to the rostrum formed a pretty background of the delightful program, which was enjoyed by the guests during the evening.

Over two hundred guests enjoyed the pleasures of the evening. Mrs. I. E. Martin, chairman of the program committee, presided during the program, the opening number of which was given by Mrs. H. C. Holmes, who played Godard's "See You Tomorrow" with a technique and finish that pleased the most accomplished musicians in the audience.

A delightful duet, "O, That We Were Maying," was sung by Miss Margaret Kramer and Mr. A. M. Culpepper, with piano accompaniment by Miss Gertrude Mae McFadden. The number was received with hearty applause.

Miss Bernice Clair's amusing reading was enthusiastically received by the audience and she responded with a charming encore.

Miss Wee Wee Griffin's solo, "Goodbye," was one of the most enjoyable numbers of the program. Miss Griffin has a sweet voice of remarkable quality and last evening she sang at her best. Her accompaniment was given by Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Willis Robertshaw played the violin obligato.

Another number which received much applause was Mrs. Willis Robertshaw's violin selection, "Catalina." Mrs. Robertshaw played last evening with that ease and charm which marks her playing as distinctive and effective.

Miss Jessie Patterson who is well known in Port Arthur as a reader of much talent, entertained her hearers with a delightful reading, "Why I Never Married," and responded with another reading equally as amusing.

Two double numbers were given by Mrs. J. E. Singletary, who sang, "Little Mother O'Mine," and "Better Ask Me"; and Miss Theresa McClave of Beaumont, who delighted the guests with "Because" and "Love Sends A Gift." Plans for the numbers were given by Mr. C. W. Bier, Mrs. Singletary is well known in musical circles in Port Arthur for her lovely voice.

Miss McClave, who has often appeared on programs in the city, has a host of admiring friends in Port Arthur, who spoke in glowing terms of her excellent rendition of the two numbers last evening. At the close of both the double numbers, Miss McClave and Mrs. Singletary who appeared on the program as outside talent were presented with arm bouquets of exquisite lilies and ferns as gifts from their admiring friends.

The presentation was made by Miss Gladys Garrett.

Rev. C. W. Culp, pastor of the First Baptist church, made the principal address of the evening, speaking of his association with Dr. Oeschger and telling of the high esteem in which he and Mrs. Oeschger is held in the community. Following his address Mrs. W. E. Clinton, on behalf of the church, presented Mrs. Oeschger with a platinum bar pin inset with diamonds and Mr. B. W. Park presented Dr. Oeschger with a set of cuff links, a knife, and the clasp of white gold. Touching responses were made by both Dr. and Mrs. Oeschger. Mr. J. A. Bruton then gave a short farewell talk, and the program was concluded with a vocal solo by little Miss Lorraine Davis, with piano accompaniment by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Davis.

Delicious refreshments of punch and wafers were served at the close of the program, assisted in the serving were Miss Gladys Garrett, Miss Wee Wee Griffin, Mrs. Willis Robertshaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Honey, Mrs. W. M. Davis, and Mr. Earl Raby.

Youth Jailed, Pair Of Mates Sent Away

KENTON, O., Aug. 24.—How two Kenton girls, both 16, lived with Jay Strange, 18, one as his wife and the other as his sister, both unaware of the true relationship, was revealed Saturday when Strange was charged with contributing to the delinquency of the girls.

Strange pleaded guilty before Juvenile Judge A. D. Turner, who sentenced him to an indeterminate term in Mansfield reformatory.

Testimony showed that Strange met the girls at a Kenton restaurant where he was employed. They disappeared. Parents of the girls worried over their disappearance, traced them to Indian Lake and then to Lima, where they remained a week before being arrested.

The girls were sent to the State Industrial School at Delaware.

STRANGE MALADY NEAR AN EPIDEMIC IN VIRGINIA

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 24.—A disease known as the "Devil's Grip" is prevalent in epidemic proportions in certain parts of Virginia. Ennion G. Williams, state health commissioner, and C. C. Hudson, city health officer of Richmond, have announced.

To date more than 60 cases have been reported here, and considerably more than 1200 to the state health authorities.

Steps to combat the malady, which is believed to be highly contagious, have been taken by city and state health officials in conjunction with Dr. Charles Armstrong, epidemiologist of the United States public health service.

As, in the case with Spanish influenza, pneumonia frequently follows an attack of the "Devil's Grip." It is accompanied by shivering and other malady. One patient died from heart failure incidental to an attack.

AUTO CRASH FATAL TO RICH REALTY MAN

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 24.—G. J. Holleman, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., one of the most prominent real estate developers of this city, was killed today when his automobile overturned while taking a turn and crushed him beneath the steering wheel. The corner where the accident occurred is near a section known as "millionaire's row," but is poorly lighted.

Squirrel "Piggy" to Return Again to the White House, Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Piggy, the White House squirrel, has proved that the report of her death was "greatly exaggerated." Three months ago Leola Hays, the late President Harding's Airedale, killed a squirrel on the White House grounds, and when Piggy failed to appear after the incident, it was assumed that she had been killed. An obituary was written detailing Piggy's virtues, her home loving nature, and her willingness to explore the deepest pocket in search of a peanut.

Today, however, Piggy was back on the grounds when President Coolidge paid an early morning visit.

No official explanation has been given for her absence, but it is stated authoritatively that domestic duties involving the raising of a family occupied her attention.

COUPLE, WIFE SICK, IS MARRIED AT CURBSTONE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The City hall dome has witnessed many weddings. But it looked down for the first time on a curbstome wedding. Winford Herbert Miller and Miss Loy Olive Miriam Murray were married by Justice H. E. Barnett on Van Ness avenue.

The bride was seated in an automobile beside the curb. The groom stood on the curb beside her.

The couple met four years ago, when he was on a ship which put in at Melbourne, Australia. They kept up a correspondence. Finally she consented to come to San Francisco to marry him.

On shipboard, she contracted pneumonia and her first month here was spent at St. Mary's hospital. She was strong enough to ride to City hall but was not able to get out and go to the chambers of the justice of the peace. The wedding ceremony, therefore, was performed on the street.

AMATEURS PUT 'ON GOOD SHOW'

Asked to Repeat the Performance

Port Arthur's amateur talent scored again last night when the Intermediate Leaguers of the First M. E. Church, South, presented the play, "A Poor Married Man," with such remarkable success on the roof garden of the church.

So delightful was the play and so excellent were the characterizations by the young people that they have been asked to repeat it on the roof garden of the church sometime next month. The play will be staged at the Pear Ridge Community church next Monday night and at Port Neches next Friday night.

The play's many amusing situations made it highly attractive and the clever sayings and amusing predicaments of the characters afforded much laughter for the audience.

Miss Aline Winn scored the decisive hit of the evening in her capacity as the "mother-in-law," and at the close of the play she was presented with the medal awarded by Manuel Wallace to the one making the best character part. Judges awarded the medal to Miss Winn were Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mrs. Edna Abner and J. D. Carter.

Manuel Wallace was admirably cast in his role of Professor Wise, the "Poor Married Man," Willie Sealhorn, as the country doctor, and H. S. Singletary as Billy, a popular college boy. Played their parts remarkably well. Harvey Wingler scored a bit as Jupiter Jackson, a black tramp. Miss Mildred May as the professor's first wife and Miss Thelma Campbell as his second wife were delightful. Miss Burns took the role of a college reporter.

The selections by the Southern Methodist orchestra were enjoyed by the audience and added much to the evening's entertainment. The orchestra is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Bonner, Roy and Merle Sterling, W. V. Simmons, Miss Helen Johnson, C. B. Manly Jr. and Mason Barron.

RICH MEXICAN EXILE IS BACK FROM SPAIN
SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 24.—Yancho Pimentel y Fagonzo, once one of the richest men in Mexico, during the Diaz administration, has returned after 10 years exile in Spain, according to information received here from Vera Cruz. His return is taken to mean that Mexico is again open to commercial exploitation by former large property owners, providing they can assure the government that they have no intention of reducing them to their former state of practical serfdom.
